Western Construction Group Hires Enrique Alegria as Safety Manager

(St. Louis, MO, Sept. 08, 2014) - Western Construction Group has hired Enrique Alegria as a Safety Manager. In this position, Alegria will contribute to the overall risk management of the company and assist the branch offices with various aspects of safety management including inspections, quality control, foreman training and site specific safety plans.

Alegria has more than 15 years of experience in the safety industry. Prior to Western Construction Group, Alegria worked as a Safety Director/HR at JBI Electrical Systems in Fort Worth, TX.

Alegria has an MS in Occupational Safety and Health/Environmental Management from Columbia Southern University. He is also a member of the American Society of Safety Engineers (ASSE) and a student member of the American Conference of Industrial Hygienists (ACGIH).

Western Construction Group has always made a healthy and safe work environment a priority for its employees. Recently, the National Council on Compensation Insurance (NCCI) awarded Western an industry-leading .55 Experience Modification Rating (EMR). Any rating less than 1.00 means the company's three-year work comp loss experience is more favorable than its peers.
